RAINING WORDS

objective: create a graphic made of raining words and their color trails

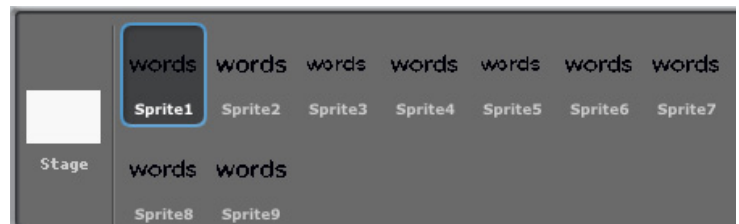

Behind the Scenes:

stage: white, no background the script put in the background can actually be put in any of the sprites' scripts.

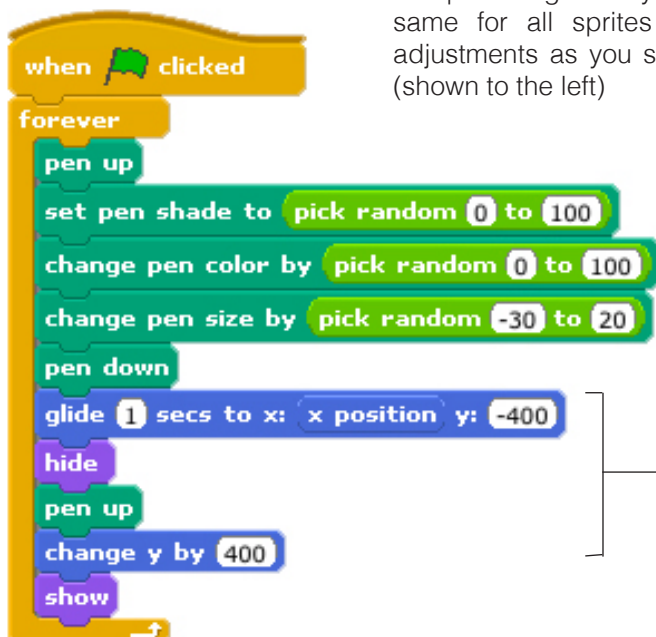

the screen is cleared when the space key is pressed

Sprite 1-9: using the "paint new sprite" option, create multiple sprites using the font tool and typing "words." font size is optional and can vary. you can use as many sprites as you see fit, nine are used here.

Sprites 1-9*:

*script is generally the same for all sprites with adjustments as you see fit (shown to the left) generates more variety randomly in terms of the sprite's trail's color, shade, and size. adjust the range by testing out the script.

lets the words glide down the screen and then return to its original position without being seen
